

La Revolución tendrá que realizarse sin otra divisa también que la del triunfo

Published on FIDEL Soldier of Ideas (<http://www.comandanteenjefe.biz>)

“It is important that, as from today, that the people know and understand that the Revolution could not be a task of one, two, or three days, that the evils that affect us could not be eradicated overnight, and that it would be necessary to work very hard. Just as the war was not won in a single day, [...], the Revolution would also have to be made step by step, little by little, and without any other maxim but that of the final victory.”
